PASTOR'S CORNER

When the Moral Compass is Twisted

There is so much talk about the need for integrity in the society but little of the show of it is seen in daily living. This has made the society so corrupt from the leadership to the followership. The church also is not spared in the twisting of the moral compass. Lack of integrity has been responsible to a large extent to the moral decadence we are face with. Does this change the person of God or His standards? The answer is NO! What the Lord expects is that "Our lives should be able to withstand close examination by other people. We should live honestly – not pretending to be something we are not in order to create a false impression"

– Design For Discipleship (DFD). Straighten the moral compass of your life.

WORD FOR THE WEEK

You give me your shield of victory, and your right hand sustains me; you stoop down to make me great. You broaden the path beneath me, so that my ankles do not turn.

— Psalms 18:35-36 (NIV)
