PASTOR'S CORNER

Purpose of Stewardship

Would you call the farmer faithful who didn't care enough to cultivate, weed, and spray his fields after the seed was planted? He should change his methods if he's not getting an adequate yield of produce.

The purpose of farming is to raise a good crop, and the purpose of stewardship is to multiply the investment entrusted to a manager by his employer.

Christian stewardship entails the responsibility of investing whatever time, talents, and possessions God has given us to yield the best returns to Him.
